

Carol Martin-Sperry

Psychological Consultancy

Carol works on and off screen as a counsellor and consultant offering psychological assessment and testing, on-going support with back-up and follow-up for anyone involved in television documentaries and reality shows. This is driven by her concern for both cast and crew in emotionally sensitive situations in line with her professional ethics. She works in production offices, on set and in her consulting room depending on the clients' need.

She is also an experienced post traumatic stress counsellor and de-briefer.
